

Occupational Therapist Live-In Position in Australia

Hello!

We are looking for a live in Occupational Therapist (OT) to assist us with our 11 year old Autistic son Sam.

We are looking for someone to come and live with us for at least 6 months and help with Sam's development. Sam is very easy going and is a joy to be around – his main issue is a lack of development – delayed speech, delayed milestones (e.g. washing & dressing himself).

We have had two live in OTs before and they helped us a lot in making progress with Sam.

We also need assistance with our other boy Charlie (aged 6 – no development issues). Both Sam & Charlie attend school so you will have a lot of free time to study, meet friends, go to the beach etc.

We live at Fern Bay which is in the Port Stephens / Newcastle area which is famous for great beaches, excellent climate and fine wines. We are also only 160km north of Sydney so this is reachable for weekend trips. We also have 2 horses that we ride (including Sam) and you would be free to ride them too.

We have a nice home that has a swimming pool and we are only a few km's from the beach. The OT will have their own room and we also provide all food, internet etc.

You will be part of the household so some assistance will be needed: e.g. shared cooking, making kids school lunches, kids washing etc.

We can also assist with an Occupational Therapy placement that could lead to gaining Australian residency and citizenship. Our last live-in occupational therapist did this and is now an Australian resident and will eventually become a citizen.

So if you want to have a working holiday and see a great part of Australia this may interest you.
